

OPEN CALL

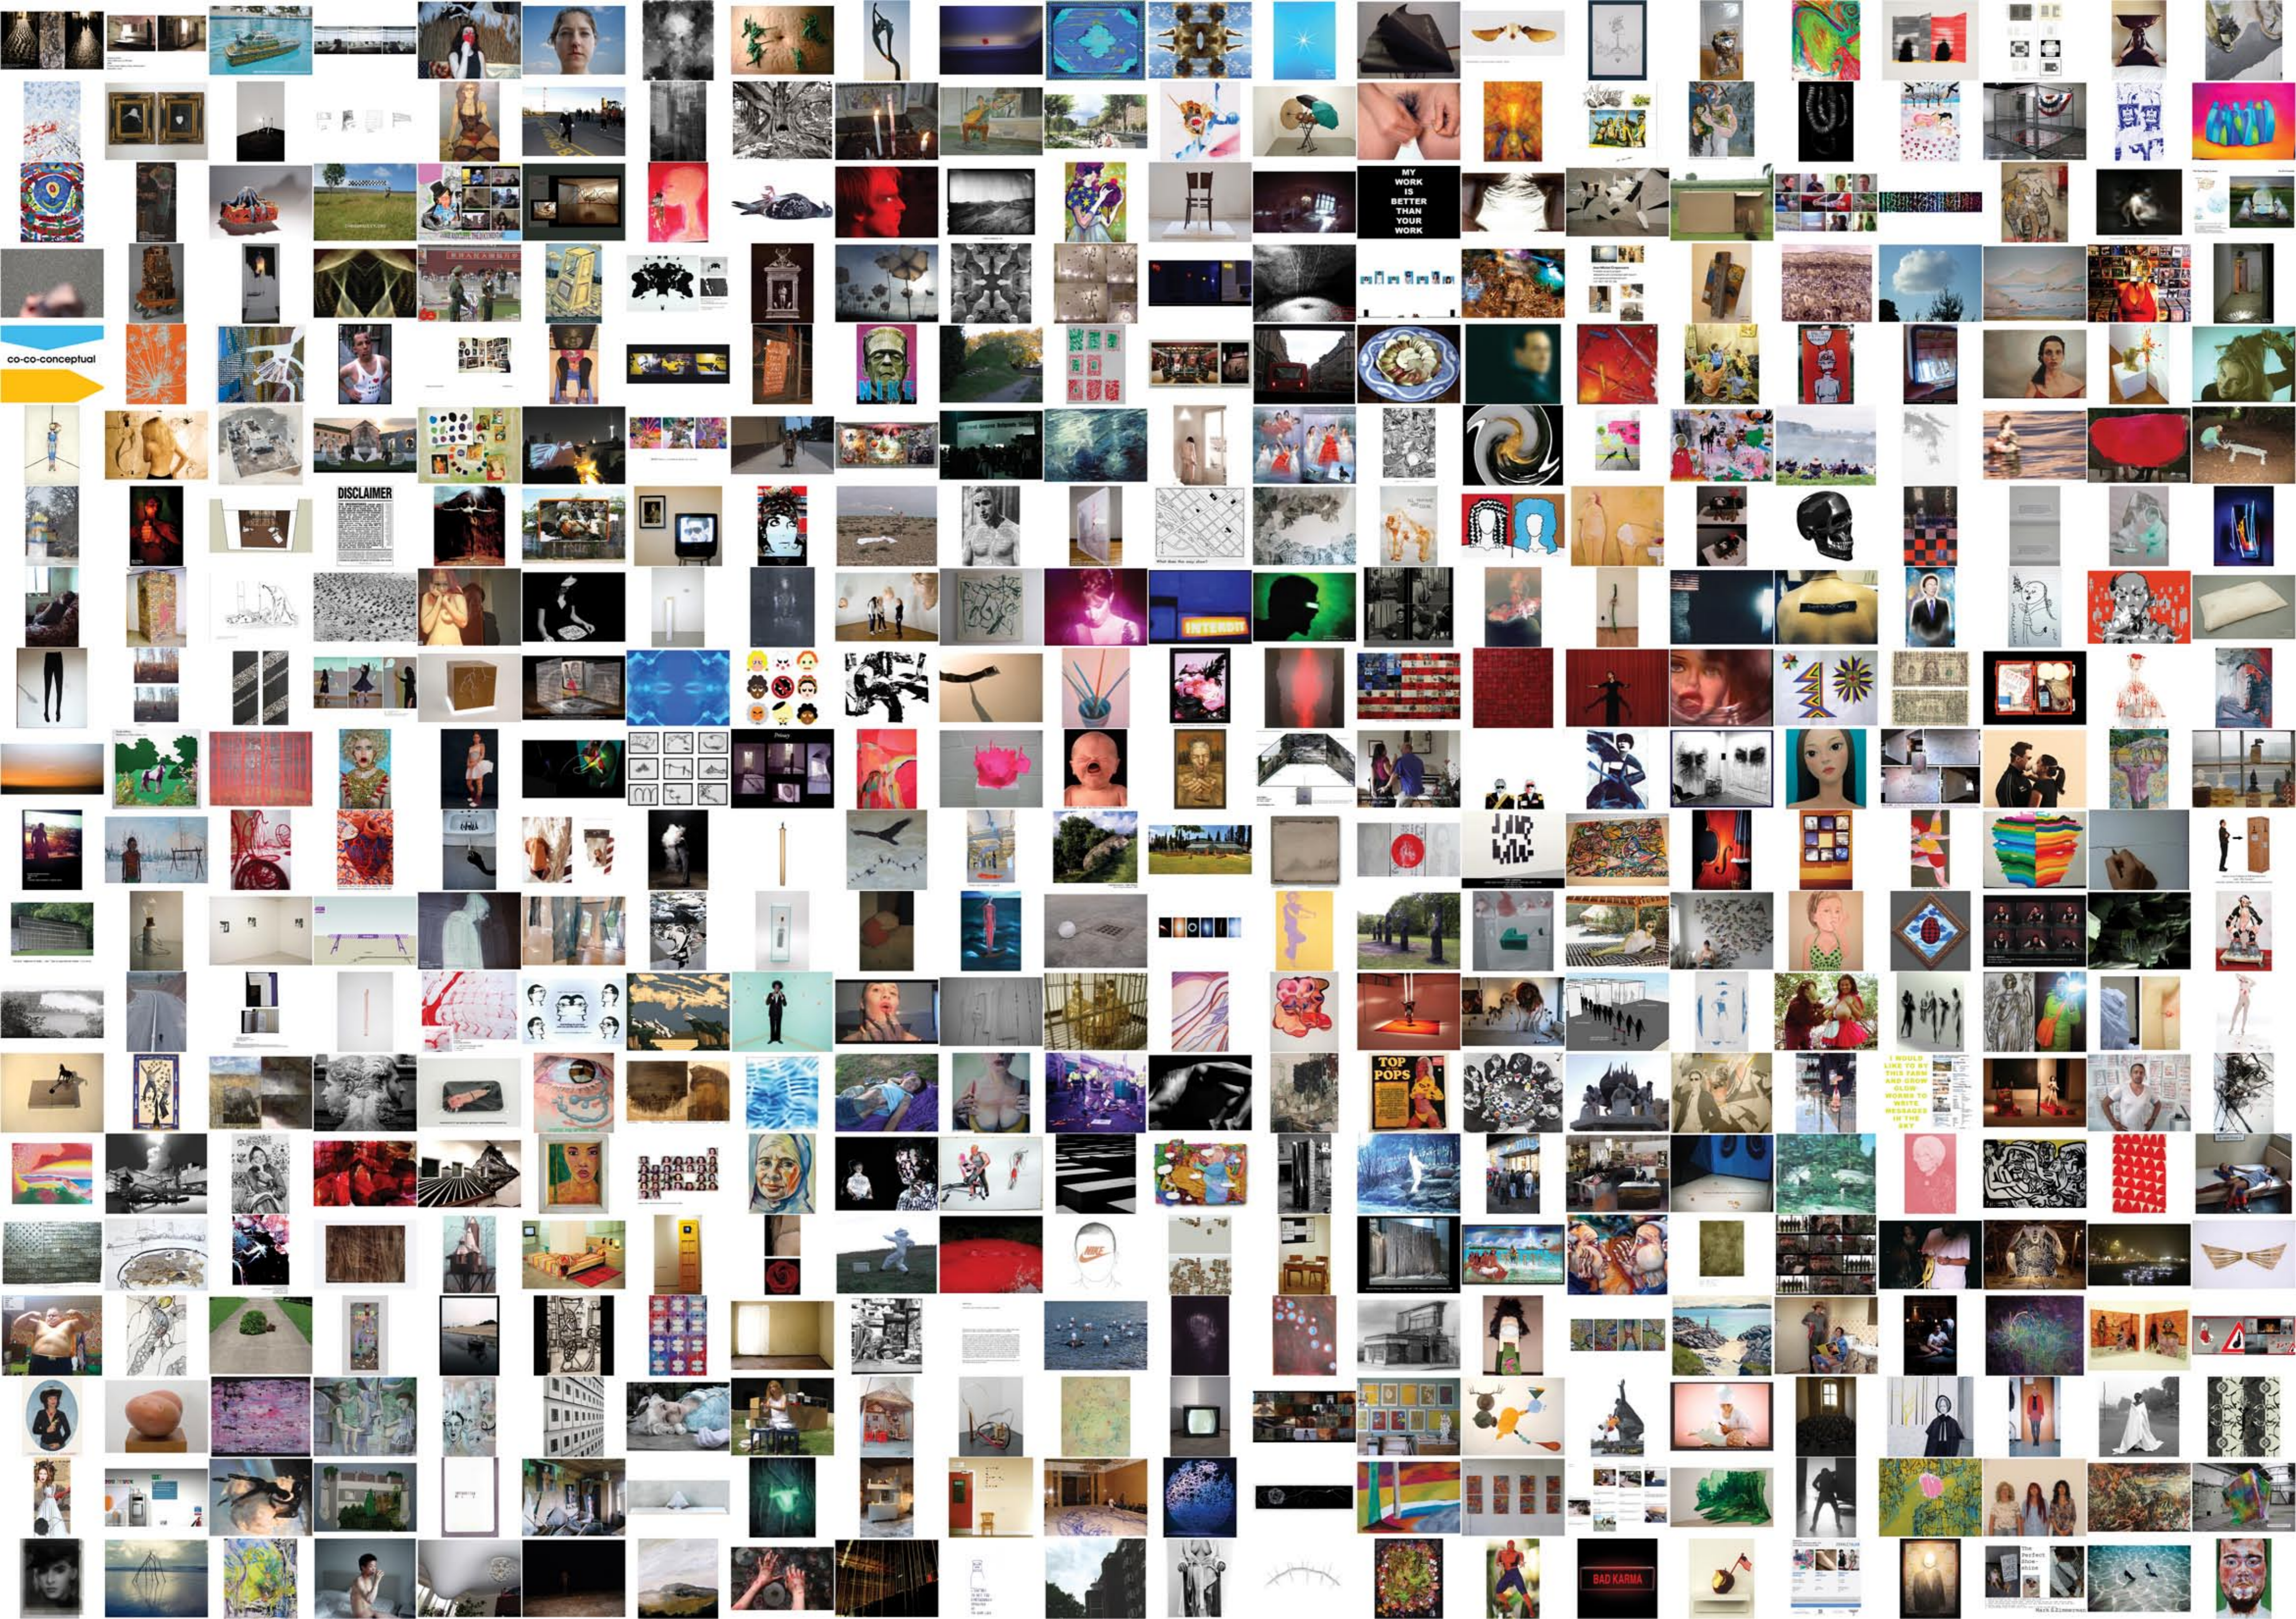

Within the framework of Frieze Projects at the 2009 Frieze Art Fair, New York-based artist Brina Thurston organized Open Call, a project presented by curators Filipa Oliveira + Miguel Amado as part of their project "Impossible Exchange".

Over 400 artists from all over the world participated in Open Call by submitting an image of their work via the Internet. These images were then organized and reviewed live at the booth of "Impossible Exchange" by a panel of artists, curators, writers and the general public. It is common practice for today's artist to submit their work to countless calls for exhibitions; what happens after their work is sent off is a veiled process to which Open Call offers-up one possibility.

Open Call could not have been made possible without the assistance provided by Frieze Projects, the support and vision of Filipa Oliveira + Miguel Amado and the hundreds of artists who - out of courage and generosity - offered their work. Congratulations! You all made it into the show!
